FEE This event has been organised on the basis of the kind voluntary assistance given by the speakers, contributors and David Lown at Weston College. Whilst every attempt has been made to keep costs to a minimum, there are however costs which have to be met and a small fee of £35 is requested from members who attend . The fee for non-members is £85 to include free membership of Environmental Protection UK for one year..

There is no fee for bona-fide students but a modest contribution of £3.00 towards catering costs is requested.

Please make payments by cheque payable to 'Environmental Protection South West' and either hand them in on the day to Rob Enticott or send them to him at the address below. Payments may also be made in cash on the day. Receipts will be issued on request and invoices issued against official orders.

The South West Division of Environmental Protection UK continues to be active in the region, supporting over 100 members from local authorities, organisations, businesses and institutions. For details, please contact the Hon. Secretary or the Policy Officer
